On page 13 of the Report the Inspector remarks that the time seems to have come for consideration whether the St.Andrew's Free School may not now be closed especially in view of its reduced strength. He considers that the pupils now on the rolls of the school could go to St.John's School which is in the neighbourhood. If the Inspector considers it advisable to close the school he will no doubt send a further communication in this behalf separately. This may be awaited.

The report may be filed.

Instructions for the preparation of the report.

1. The name of the school, as recognized by the department, should be entered in full on the title page.

2. Any explanation which the manager or headmaster may desire to give regarding each table [tables (f), (g) and (h) excepted], should be given in the space allotted for the purpose.

3. Table (a).—Managers should afford the inspecting officer facilities for verifying the accounts. If any important change has taken place in the receipts or expenditure of the institution since the close of the preceding official year, so as to alter materially its financial position, the fact should be noted in the appropriate place. Care should be taken to see that the figures in table (a) correspond with the figures entered against the same items in the Annual Financial Statement for the same year.

4. Table (b).—

(i) The certificates of all teachers on the staff should be produced before the inspecting officer, who will verify the entries in this table.

(ii) Physical Training and other special instructors should be included in this table, but teachers whose sole duty it is to teach religion, and clerks and menial servants should be excluded.

(iii) The inspecting officers should review in the remarks column the qualifications of the staff with reference to articles 119, 120, 121, 122 and 123 of the Code of Regulations for European Schools and prescribe the steps, if any, which are to be taken by the management in order to comply with the requirements of the Code.

5. Table (c).—(1) Explanation should be furnished in the appropriate column regarding fluctuations in attendance.

(2) Explanation should be furnished regarding pupils admitted without vaccination certificates.

6. Table (d).—(1) The fee registers should be produced for inspection. The inspecting officer will not only examine carefully the record of the terms concerned but also note any irregularity. It should also be stated whether the rules regarding fees contained in article 54 of the Code of Regulations for European Schools are complied with.

(2) The totals of columns 2, 3, 4 and 5 should be the same, it being borne in mind that all admissions are to be entered in column 3 and all withdrawals in column 4. In column 6 it should be stated how many pupils were wholly free and how many were partly free, and the figures should exclude all drawing grants under articles 156 and 166.

7. Table (e).—The results of the last two years should be compared in this table and the years should invariably be specified.

8. Table (f).—The entries in this table should show how far the provisions of the Code of Regulations for European Schools are complied with in these respects.

9 Table (g).—The inspecting officer alone will make entries in this table.

10. On inspection days, the work of the school should proceed according to the ordinary time-table; any deviation which is found necessary in order to enable the inspecting officer to obtain a comprehensive view of the working of the school will be suggested on the spot.

(2) Satisfactory.

(3) Sufficient and suitable.

(4) Made with care. But promotions should not be made in the course of the school year without the previous sanction of the Inspector. (See Article 77 of the Code).

(5) and (6) Satisfactory.

(7) Good.

Table (g).—Inspecting officer's remarks.

(1) Physical training and Medical Inspection.

Physical training receives satisfactory attention. As stated by the Correspondent in Table (b), medical inspection of the pupils continues to be carried out - at present when a child is admitted.

A free midday meal continues to be given to all the children

(2) Boarding House.

Nil.

(3) School Gardens.

There are two small gardens, one maintained by the younger and the other by the older children. They might perhaps receive more attention.

(4) Music.

Nil.

Table (h).—The general impression of the Inspecting officer with respect to the efficiency of the institution

There has been a fall in strength, but the school continues to do good work. It is efficiently managed.

The work in English showed some improvement. Handwriting had improved with the introduction of copy books, but headlines need to be written on the board, before the class, to show the right and the wrong formation of letters, spacing of words, etc. Without such practical guidance errors are bound to persist. Exercises in composition based on the class readers should be found a place in the exercise books set apart for composition and grammar. Difficulties of spelling and punctuation should, as far as possible, be obviated by means of preliminary questioning and instruction. Otherwise floundering is bound to result. Dr. Jagger's New Foundation Readers (University of London, Agents, Longmans, Green) might be tried in Standards I to IV. Reading and recitation ~~was satisfactory~~ were satisfactory.

A good feature of the work in Arithmetic is the pupils' ability to tackle easy problems - even in Standards I and II.

Good work had been done in Nature Study, though it could have been more experimental in character.

The ground covered in English History in Standards III and IV was insufficient. Better progress had been made in Indian History.

I would suggest that the class textbooks be followed more closely in Geography in Standards III and IV. Map-drawing was fair.

Two sections in the Infant Class had made satisfactory progress in reading and number work. The other two sections were beginners. Recitation was satisfactory.

Satisfactory progress continues to be made in needlework and domestic subjects.

The tone continues good.

Table (f).

(1) Accommodation; (2) Sanitary condition; (3) Furniture, apparatus and appliances; (4) Promotions; (5) Observance of the rules regarding admissions and withdrawals; (6) Maintenance of registers; (7) Discipline, dress, etc.

(1) No change since last inspection.

(2) Satisfactory.

(3) No additions. The furniture is sufficient.

(4) Made with care. But as I pointed out to the Headmistress at the time, there is quite a considerable amount of stagnation. With so few children in the standards, I should have thought it possible to give backward pupils individual attention.

(5) and (6) In order.

(7) Satisfactory.

Table (g).—Inspecting officer's remarks.

(1) Physical training and Medical Inspection.

Physical training receives satisfactory attention, and the children are medically examined on admission.

(2) Boarding House.

A good midday meal continues to be given.

(3) School Gardens.

Nil.

(4) Music.

Without a piano it is not, of course, possible to give regular lessons in singing.

Table (h).—The general impression of the Inspecting officer with respect to the efficiency of the institution.

The children receive a practical education with emphasis on ~~hand-and-eye~~ hand-and-eye training. The boys receive instruction in carpentry, and the girls in domestic science with a practical bias. There was an adequate supply of timber in the small but well equipped workshops, and some useful articles had been made.

On the literary side the usual primary curriculum is followed. Good progress is made in reading, but composition is on the whole weak. However, a simpler series of English readers is now in use - a series provided with exercises in the use of the language- and it is hoped that better results will be obtained. The work in composition begins quite rightly with sentence-building in Standards I and II, but this work needs to be set and developed with reference to the particular types of sentences employed in the class reader. Arithmetic is on the whole taught carefully, and in the upper standards the pupils set out their work very well. The instruction in History and Geography is based on suitable textbooks, and a fair amount of written work is set on it. Some instructive lessons are given under "Nature Study", the educational value of which would be enhanced if greater use was made of natural specimens.

The Infant Class is in more than the two sections shown in Table (c). This further sub-division of the class according to the children's progress in reading seemed to be too great a strain on the teacher, for progress in number work, more especially, was not so good as it has been.

The school is efficiently managed, and is well cared for.

HOURS OF SECULAR INSTRUCTION.

Morning :— to

Afternoon :— to

Instructions for the preparation of the report.

1. The name of the school, as recognized by the department, should be entered in full on the title page.

2. Any explanation which the manager or headmaster may desire to give regarding each table [tables (f), (g) and (h) excepted], should be given in the space allotted for the purpose.

3. Table (a).—Managers should afford the inspecting officer facilities for verifying the accounts. If any important change has taken place in the receipts or expenditure of the institution since the close of the preceding official year, so as to alter materially its financial position, the fact should be noted in the appropriate place. Care should be taken to see that the figures in table (a) correspond with the figures entered against the same items in the Annual Financial Statement for the same year.

4. Table (b).—

(i) The certificates of all teachers on the staff should be produced before the inspecting officer, who will verify the entries in this table.

(ii) Physical Training and other special instructors should be included in this table, but teachers whose sole duty it is to teach religion, and clerks and menial servants should be excluded.

(iii) The inspecting officers should review in the remarks column the qualifications of the staff with reference to articles 119, 120, 121, 122 and 123 of the Code of Regulations for European Schools and prescribe the steps, if any, which are to be taken by the management in order to comply with the requirements of the Code.

5. Table (c).—(1) Explanation should be furnished in the appropriate column regarding fluctuations in attendance.

(2) Explanation should be furnished regarding pupils admitted without vaccination certificates.

6. Table (d).—(1) The fee registers should be produced for inspection. The inspecting officer will not only examine carefully the record of the terms concerned but also note any irregularity. It should also be stated whether the rules regarding fees contained in article 54 of the Code of Regulations for European Schools are complied with.

(2) The totals of columns 2, 3, 4 and 5 should be the same, it being borne in mind that all admissions are to be entered in column 3 and all withdrawals in column 4. In column 6 it should be stated how many pupils were wholly free and how many were partly free, and the figures should exclude all drawing grants under articles 156 and 166.

7. Table (e).—The results of the last two years should be compared in this table and the years should invariably be specified.

8. Table (f).—The entries in this table should show how far the provisions of the Code of Regulations for European Schools are complied with in these respects.

9. Table (g).—The inspecting officer alone will make entries in this table.

10. On inspection days, the work of the school should proceed according to the ordinary time-table; any deviation which is found necessary in order to enable the inspecting officer to obtain a comprehensive view of the working of the school will be suggested on the spot.
